RATE

The Rate(s) for transportation of gas shall be:

1) The terms and conditions for applicability for the discounted gas transportation rate are as follows:

- a) Each day prior to either Reeves or Rio Bravo plant(s) being brought into service, Transportation Customer shall provide a daily schedule as to the volume it expects to be consumed at each Delivery Point for the succeeding twenty-four (24) hour period. Along with a daily schedule, Transportation Customer shall provide to the Company a report as to the volume of gas estimated to be consumed to fulfill the obligation to meet load-side management requirements ("Load-Side") and the volume of gas estimated to be consumed for the generation of electricity to be sold by Transportation Customer on the wholesale power market, or to displace purchased power from the wholesale power market ("Marketing"). On or before the third working day of each month, Transportation Customer shall provide the Company report(s) showing the gas delivered to the Reeves and Rio Bravo generating plant(s) to meet Load-Side requirements, and the difference between the total gas deliveries and the Load-Side requirement deliveries shall be the gas deliveries for Marketing generation. The monthly reports shall include worksheets reflecting support for daily Load-Side requirements and worksheets reflecting support for Marketing generation. The reports shall be utilized as support to bill the Transportation Customer the appropriate transportation rate(s). X
